Social Exploration Program

We are developing a social exploration program for students who would like to experience new life enriching activities. Our class will focus on development of social skills and exposing students to social/cultural activities outside of their normal interests. Subject matter includes:

- Nonverbal Communication
- Body Proximity
- Reading Facial Expressions
- Reading Body Language
- Gender Differences in Communication
- Initiating Conversations
- Reciprocating Conversations
- Conversational Progression
- Interpersonal Relationships
- Qualities of a Healthy Relationship

Through active participation the class will explore a wide range of social/cultural activities in such areas as culinary arts, outdoor activities, history, music, art, theatre, literature, media and volunteering. Each class will expose students to something new and find different ways to participate.

Classes will be taught by Ryan Wecker the Director of Enigma Services. Ryan has over a decade of experience in education and has helped many students complete their schooling with academic and social skills supports. Years of experience has allowed Ryan to determine universal skills that assist all students in their life long development.

Enigma Services is a register 501c3 nonprofit based in King County
